Commission on Population and Development
Thirty-third session
27-31 March 2000
Agenda item 3 (a)
Follow-up actions to the recommendations of the International Conference on Population and Development: special theme: population, gender and development

Draft resolution submitted by the Vice-Chairman of the Commission on Population and Development, Antonio Golini (Italy), on the basis of informal consultations

Population, gender and development

The Commission on Population and Development,

Reaffirming the commitment of Member States to the implementation of the Programme of Action of the International Conference on Population and Development,[1]

Recalling the recommendations of the Programme of Action and reaffirming the key actions for the further implementation of the Programme of Action relating to gender equality, equity and the empowerment of women,

Recalling also that the theme for the thirty-third session of the Commission on Population and Development was population, gender and development,

Noting the fundamental importance of gender dimensions for all aspects of demographic change and development of a society,

Noting also the significance of policies and programmes affecting gender relations,

Recognizing the need to eliminate all discrimination and abuse against women and children, including sexual abuse, exploitation, trafficking and violence, and exposure, especially of young women, to high risks of human immunodeficiency virus/acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (HIV/AIDS) infection,

1. Prie la Division de la population du Secrétariat de l'Organisation des Nations Unies de continuer à introduire des perspectives sexospécifiques dans toutes ses recherches sur les politiques démographiques, les niveaux et l'évolution de la population et notamment l'analyse des données démographiques, sociales et économiques ventilées par âge et par sexe, de façon que les gouvernements puissent ainsi mieux comprendre les corrélations entre population, parité et développement dans le contexte mondial et par des comparaisons entre pays;

2. Prie également la Division de la population, dans les analyses qu'elle entreprend, de prêter spécialement attention à la dynamique des relations entre les sexes et aux implications démographiques de la pandémie d'infections par le virus de l'immunodéficience humaine/syndrome d'immunodéficience acquise (VIH/sida), de la mortalité périnatale, infantile et maternelle et du vieillissement de la population, et d'améliorer la description et l'analyse statistiques des phénomènes résultant de toutes les formes de discrimination et de sévices contre les femmes et les enfants, en particulier les sévices sexuels, l'exploitation, la traite et la violence sexiste, ainsi qu'aux dimensions sexospécifiques des migrations.
